RARE SPECIES OF BIKES AT REGATTA

A bicycle-made-for-two had nothing on the varied species of bikes to be seen at Kelowna Regatta. At least six of the oddest bicycles in captivity will be paraded by their creators, members of the Kelowna Boys' Club. Here are two of the bike boys, Ray Rose, 17, on the biggest bike, and Doug Wade, 14, stands by. (Courier Staff Photo).

Stage All Set for Dief To Name New Cabinet

OTTAWA (CP) — Departure of Solicitor General William Brown from the cabinet Thursday leaves the stage clear for Prime Minister Diefenbaker to announce his new cabinet lineup. Informed sources say the announcement will come soon—perhaps this weekend—but may be delayed for the return of Governor-General Vanier from a summer vacation on the lower St. Lawrence.

U.K.'s New Plan On ECM Thrashed Out By Brussels

BRUSSELS (CP-Reuters) — Common Market negotiators today began thrashing out Britain's latest proposals in its application to join the European Economic Community as the nine-month-long talks entered a critical stage. Officials of the six Market countries were analyzing the British proposals while their foreign ministers planned to discuss with the British team the effect of Britain's market membership on Indian, Pakistan and Ceylonese trade. The six ministers also were due to discuss the key farm export question with chief British negotiator Edward Heath.

Death Of Germ Scientist A 'Mystery'—U.K. Official

LONDON (AP) — Admittedly, "very worried," British authorities are investigating the mysterious death of a senior scientist at Britain's secret germ warfare laboratory. A war office spokesman said George Bacon, 44, may have died from an accidental infection suffered while working with viruses and bacteria at the war office's microbiological research laboratory in Wiltshire. Bacon's wife and two daughters are under quarantine. However, the war office spokesman refused to say whether there is a chance of outside infection from Bacon's death. "An inquiry is being held," he said. A war office scientist said Bacon died of a disease resembling pneumonia, which is caused by a virus.

Menzies Names New Minister

CANBERRA, Australia (Reuters) — Prime Minister Robert Menzies today announced the appointment of David Fairbairn as air minister in succession to Leslie Bury. Bury resigned last week at Menzies' request after saying in two speeches that the effect on Australia of Britain's joining the Common Market would be "limited and minor"—a stand contrary to that of Menzies.

Canadians More Out Than In Says Bureau

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada apparently lost more people through emigration than it gained by immigration during the 12 months up to last June 1. This was indicated today in a Dominion Bureau of Statistics report estimating Canada's June 1 population at 18,570,000 compared with 18,238,000 a year earlier. The 332,000 increase was the smallest annual rise since 1950, when the gain was only 265,000. The population estimate is based on figures of the natural population increase—births minus deaths—combined with immigration reports and estimates of emigration. Canada keeps no official tabs on population outflows, and the emigration estimate is based mainly on United States and British immigration statistics.

Today's DBS report said the natural population increase during the 12 months slowed to "about 335,000," with a small decrease in the number of births and a slight increase in deaths. But the estimated over-all population gain was 332,000, or 3,000 less than the natural increase. A DBS official said total immigration in the 12 months to June 1 was around 70,000 while total emigration was in the vicinity of 72,000 or 73,000 although exact figures were not obtainable.

New Jail Planned At Kamloops

Mayor C. H. Day said Thursday council has asked architects to prepare sketches for a proposed new police station in Kamloops. The mayor's announcement came after Medical Health Officer Dr. Ian D. Findlay reported he could no longer take responsibility for the health of persons kept in the city jail.

Prince Philip has consented to become chairman of the advisory council of the Commonwealth Arts Festival to be held in Britain in 1965, it was announced here Thursday.

Earl Attlee, former U.K. Labor party prime minister, said Thursday night that British entry into the European Common Market would be "a step backward" whose political dangers were "very, very great."

Health Minister Martin said today British Columbia will cooperate with the federal government in every way in trying to find a solution to providing assistance to babies born deformed as a result of the thalidomide.

Real Casquette, deputy federal leader of the Social Credit party, said in Timmins, Ont., his party will vote for any no-confidence motion raised in the House of Commons when Parliament is convened. "I have fought against Diefenbaker outside Parliament. I will not fight for him inside it," he said.

External Affairs Minister Green will hold hush-hush talks with British Columbia lumbermen in Vancouver about U.S. proposed revolutionary quotas on lumber exports from Canada.

Charles Laughton's condition was listed as poor Thursday at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital where he underwent surgery for a collapsed vertebra. Earlier, the 63-year-old actor's condition had been described as satisfactory. No reason was given for the apparent decline.

Princess Margaret and her husband Lord Snowdon, left London by air Thursday night for Jamaica, where she will represent the Queen at the island's independence celebrations, Aug. 6.

Balloon Sets Cargo Free

RINCE ALBERT (CP) — A giant plastic research balloon launched from Goose Bay, Labrador, today released its live cargo in a wilderness area about 55 miles northeast of here. The capsule dropped from the 380-foot high balloon contained two monkeys, two hamsters, flower beetles and an assortment of seeds and nerve cells.

BENNETT COMMENDS VICTORIA FOR BUYING BC PARITY BONDS

VICTORIA (CP) — Premier Bennett Thursday commended the city of Victoria for deciding to invest $300,000 in B.C. parity bonds. "This shows they are a good buy," he said. Mayor R. B. Wilson said Wednesday the investment is to show "that the capital city of the province has confidence in B.C." The move came immediately after Vancouver cashed in $1,800,000 worth of parity bonds and invested $1,200,000 in bank deposit receipts bearing interest of 5.6 per cent. The parity interest rate is 5.5 per cent. Mr. Bennett said Victoria's action shows that people are not paying attention to reports that there is a run on parity bonds.

Curb On Fascist Rallies 'Threat' To Free Speech

LONDON (CP) — The major difficulty in outlawing meetings designed to incite racial hatred is that any such law, unless skillfully worded, might be used under different circumstances to restrain free speech.

Henry Brooke, recently appointed home secretary, implied as much Thursday when he rose in the House of Commons to reply to the barrage of criticism against a recent series of fascist meetings that ended in violence.

"The problem is, as I think the House will agree," Brooke said, "how to preserve the right of free expression of opinion while effectively discouraging any incitement to racial hatred."

He also pointed out that in the cases at hand the violence had not been on the part of the fascist speakers but by those who sought to stop them from speaking. At present, there is no law against public meetings. But they can be stopped if they get out of hand.

Flour Output Up

OTTAWA (CP)—June production of wheat flour was 3,031,000 hundredweight, 15 per cent higher than a year earlier, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics said today.

So far in 1962 there have been two polo deaths compared with one at the same time in 1961, and 28 in 1960.

Better To Live With It Than Start Another War

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Nikita Khrushchev told the peasants of his home village that the West is a smelly goat with whom Russia has to live, it was disclosed today.

He made the remark in a speech three days ago at Kalinovka, a village about 370 miles south of Moscow where he was born. The speech was published in Pravda, the Communist party newspaper.

The Soviet premier told villagers it is necessary that Soviet economy, technique and culture rise to new heights so that "our enemy will bite his tongue." "We must also have rockets and thermonuclear weapons. Then one can live well enough," he said. "If you have to keep a goat in your house, you can get used to its smell and live. Let us regard imperialism as a goat and or horse as the uh-oh panet. What the devil do we need war for? It is better to live with the goat and bear its unpleasant smell. But as the saying goes, 'Don't let it into the kitchen garden.'"

Anti-Cancer Drive Starts

LONDON (Reuters)—An international campaign against cancer was launched here Thursday night with the backing of 70 countries from East and West. Heading the campaign was W. J. Kilpatrick, chairman of the finance council of the International Union Against Cancer.

Medicare Amended

REGINA (CP) — A special session of the Saskatchewan legislature has written into law amendments to the controversial Medical Care Insurance Act outlined in an agreement made last week by the CCF government and the medical profession.

The agreement, signed in Saskatoon July 23, ended a 23-day boycott of the compulsory, prepaid and universal plan by most Saskatchewan doctors. The boycott brought to a head a 2½-year government-medical profession dispute over a public medical care plan.

In a one-day session—shortest in the province's history—a bill outlining the amendments was placed in the statutes without a dissenting vote. It received royal assent at 9:58 p.m. Thursday, prior to prorogation in the House.

"We Don't Want Soblen" Pleads Israeli Airline

LONDON (AP) — Britain ordered El Al Airline today to fly fugitive spy Robert Soblen to New York, but the Israeli government appealed to Britain to relieve the airline of this responsibility. A diplomatic source said the Israeli government had communicated its appeal to the foreign office and the matter is being studied by British officials.

This development could make it unlikely Soblen will be sent to the United States aboard the Israeli El Al plane leaving London tonight.

The London office of El Al confirmed that it had received Home Secretary Henry Brooke's order directing it to carry Soblen to New York, where he faces a life sentence for spying for the Soviet Union.

Writing to escort Soblen were Chief Marshal James J. P. McShane and Deputy Marshal Joseph Wasielewski. They will take over responsibility for Soblen when he is put aboard the aircraft by British police. "The responsibility for getting Dr. Soblen on to the aircraft is with the British and El Al," a U.S. embassy spokesman said. "Our men take over on the plane."

Missing Plane Located: All Safe

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — A plane missing since Wednesday with 10 persons aboard including a Toronto school teacher has been found near the Indian-Nepalese border with all aboard safe, it was reported here today.

NEW NATION IN MAKING

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and British Commonwealth Relations Minister Duncan Sandys posed in London with premiers of Singapore and Malaysia after an agreement to create the Federation of Malaysia. Left to right: Singapore Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew; Macmillan, Sandys, and Malaysia Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman. Malaysia, new nation in south China Sea has 10,000,000 people.

NAP DISTURBED

George E. Kilburn, who told police he had stopped on a railway siding in Van Nuys, Calif., to take a snooze, woke up to find a 20-ton car pinning him between the car's journal box and a wheel. Firemen jacked up the freight car and officers said his right arm and shoulder were 1½ inches from the wheel. He was treated for bruises.

Effect Of ECM Entry Seen As Far-Reaching

GENEVA PARK, Ont. (CP)—International political repercussions of British entry into the European Common Market will probably be more far-reaching than now seems apparent.

This was the consensus at the conference of the Canadian Institute on Public Affairs, being held at this Lake Couchiching resort community.

It was generally agreed, however, that Britain's entry into the market may not be as damaging to Commonwealth ties as has been feared.

Prof. Raymond Aron, director of studies, Ecole Pratique des Hautes Etudes, Paris, offered this forecast of the situation:

In short term the Market probably will have no direct impact on NATO. However a stronger Europe will be good for NATO.

If Britain joins there probably will be a reorganization of European defence under NATO.

'WON'T DISAPPEAR'

Prof. Aron agreed with a questioner that ties between Britain and the "old Commonwealth"—Canada, Australia and New Zealand—are too strong to disappear.

William Diebold Jr., senior research fellow, Council on Foreign Relations, New York, agreed that established patterns of trade and the fact Britain is such a large market should retain strong Commonwealth ties.

On possible French political objections to Britain joining the common market, Prof. Aron said there "is a feeling that Britain always will be more closely linked with the Commonwealth and the United States than with Europe."

He quoted an article from the Economist of London that some French circles think Britain will be the American Trojan horse within the Market, "and one more guarantee that the market will behave well for North America."

On the whole, speakers at the talks here appeared fairly optimistic about Canada's opportunities in the Common Market, although large areas remain unclear, including agricultural products.

Henry Mhuin, Montreal research economist, said Canada's position in raw materials remains strong, particularly in metals and asbestos. And in this respect the Canadian and European economies were broadly complementary.

The idea of economic union between Canada and the U.S. didn't get much support in the evening's discussions.

Dr. Mhuin said there are possibilities of integration for certain industries. But he said he doesn't think public opinion is ready to go further than that.

In Quebec, no one would accept the idea of being united with the United States. They would fear loss of identity of their language and culture.

Cabinet Changes

In the 1949 general election, Mr. Nowlan lost to Liberal Angus Elderkin by a scant four votes. However, the election of Mr. Elderkin was declared void by the Nova Scotia Supreme Court early the following year and Mr. Nowlan went on to win the subsequent by-election by 2,585 votes in June 1950.

Mr. Browne is the fifth and last of the ministers who suffered personal defeat in the 1962 general election to quit.

Mines Minister Flynn, State Secretary Dorian, Postmaster General William Hamilton, and Works Minister Walker all have resigned. Their posts have been filled by other ministers in an acting capacity.

Whether Mr. Diefenbaker will name an acting solicitor-general is doubtful, informed sources say. The post is a junior portfolio with no statutory duties, and its holder is regarded as a kind of understudy to the justice minister.

Mr. Diefenbaker, confined to his official residence with a broken left ankle, was reported to have been studying his cabinet lineup closely in the last two weeks.

Informants say he has interviewed some likely candidates for the vacancies. It is known, however, that some other conservative MPs who are widely regarded as of cabinet calibre have not been invited yet to his Sussex Street residence.

Girl Flown To Coast For Surgery

VANCOUVER (CP)—Patsy Paxton, 8, who survived a car crash at Quesnel in which her father, mother, brother and three sisters were killed, was flown here Thursday for facial surgery.

James Paxton, 29, his wife Eleanor, 25, and their children Judy, 7, Joseph, 5, Linda, 4, and Wendy, five months were killed in the crash last weekend.

Patsy's sister Cindy Lou, 2, was in hospital in Quesnel in satisfactory condition.

Alfred Joseph Carriere, 30, and Otto Thompson, 50, both of Alexandria also died as a result of the crash.

On the same mercy flight as Patsy was J. A. Forest who was injured when his truck overturned near Quesnel. He is in satisfactory condition.

Dieppe To Be Remembered

OTTAWA (CP)—Special ceremonies will observe the 20th anniversary of the 1942 Canadian raid on Dieppe, France, later this month.

A commemorative monument to the Fusiliers Mont Royal will be inaugurated on Saturday, Aug. 18, followed by a tiffin on the Esplanade de la Plage and a vigil at the Canadian cemetery.

The Toggenburg goat of Switzerland was the first species of purebred milk goats imported to the U.S. in 1893.

Eight Held At Gun Point After Man Goes Berserk

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—An embittered pipefitter, incensed by discontinuance of his disability cheques, held eight men at gunpoint for 12½ hours in a state office before detectives disarmed him Thursday night.

Charles Elmer Milligan, 52, of nearby Tempe, was subdued by Sgt. Earl Moore and Detective Don Rodriguez, who gained entry to the barricaded office by posing as reporters.

Moments earlier, Milligan had voluntarily released five of his prisoners.

The drama began about 8 a.m. in a four-storey state capitol annex housing offices of the Arizona Industrial Commission.

There for a hearing on his disability claim, Milligan whipped out a .22-calibre pistol and wounded his lawyer in a scuffle before taking command of the room.

He released his lawyer, Stephen S. Gorey, 46, who scooted out of the room on the seat of his pants and was taken to hospital with a flesh wound in his left leg. Later, Gorey, from a hospital bed, conferred with Milligan by telephone and tried to talk him out of his gun-waving lecture to commission officials.

The gunpoint hearing was interrupted in its early stages by Milligan's son, Charles, 28, who was promptly thrown out by his angered father.

By telephone, Milligan told Detective Sgt. Seymour Neal: "I damn near killed them all. He had to get past you to get in. You got him the hell out of this building."

Milligan suffered a back injury 18 months ago while working on the Glen Canyon Dam project on the Colorado River in northern Arizona. He drew disability compensation for a while, Gorey said, but the cheques stopped in mid-March.

BC WOMAN LIVES TO TELL HOW SHE KICKED A COUGAR

WILLIAMS LAKE (CP)—Mrs. Grace Naismith, wife of a doctor in the isolated Mahood district, told Thursday how she kicked a hungry cougar—and got away with it.

Mrs. Naismith said the cougar walked into her yard at her home at nearby Deception Point, 200 miles north of Vancouver, and began mauling the family's pet spaniel.

She kicked the cougar sprawling and it slunk off into the bush leaving the dog mauled but still alive. Three men later tracked the cougar down and killed it.

Drought Blamed For Rise In Price Of Pork, Beef

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian ages of pigs, many not ready for housewives paying more these days for beef and pork—in contrast to normal summer price reductions—can blame last year's prairie drought.

Fewer hogs and lower numbers of fat market-ready cattle are a delayed reaction to the reduced feed grain supplies and the resulting higher cost of feed grain.

Federal agriculture department officials expect the situation to last until new prairie grain supplies are on hand. The effect of imported American pork in helping control Canadian price fluctuations has been lessened by dollar devaluation in which the Canadian dollar doesn't go as far as it used to.

Beef cattle exports so far this year total $3,789, head in slaughter and feeder classes compared with 39,762 head a year earlier. However, exports have slowed after the winter and spring sales by farmers who were reluctant to pay higher prices for feed when the U.S. price was good.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Police admitted they were baffled today by the strangulation death of a man who claimed to be a widely travelled archeologist on a lecture series in the United States and Mexico.

The body of Dr. Carleton J. Hollenbeck, in his 60s, was discovered in a downtown hotel room Thursday. Coroner Henry Turkely said Hollenbeck had been strangled.

Next was Dr. Leo L. Tuveson, 51, attending the hearing to testify against Milligan's disability claim.

"All in a day's work," said the physician.

Also held was Loren G. Shelley, 33, a commission attorney. Said Shelley when he telephoned his wife: "I'll be heading home shortly."

Milligan said nothing as he was led away. He was booked on charges of assault with a deadly weapon and investigation of sanity.

Bennett 'Distorts' Records

VANCOUVER (CP)—Liberal leader Perrault charged Thursday Premier Bennett is distorting financial records concerning the B.C. Electric Company in a bid to retain political power.

Mr. Perrault made the charge in a statement following the premier's attack on unnamed critics of the Social Credit Government's financial policies.

The Liberal leader said BCE finances showed Mr. Bennett's claim of $15,000,000 profit in the first eight months after expropriation failed to consider several factors.

Mr. Perrault said a BCE report shows interest expense at five per cent on $101,010,100 of the $171,833,052 which the government set as the price for BCE common shares.

"On the full account and at the 5½ per cent interest rate, to which the government has been forced to raise its interest on party bonds, interest and $32,300,000 a year," he said.

"This compares with the $29,200,000 paid in interest and dividends before government operation."

"Clearly, there has been no saving in financing costs from government operations as such."

Photo of Ogo No Longer Worth $5,000

The $5,000 offer for an authentic photograph of Okanagan Lake's sea monster, Ogo, has lapsed.

At the same time as Canadian Tourist Association director Larry Ecroyd telephoned the Daily Courier from Toronto to say the offer was no more, Mrs. Vic Welder sitting yesterday on West Avenue beach with her sons twice saw what she thought was Ogo playing in the lake.

Mr. Ecroyd was replying to a newspaper inquiry about the $5,000 offer made several years ago by John Fisher, former CTA director and once known as the "Mr. Canada" of Canadian tourism.

The money could be claimed only if a genuine photograph and negative were produced. Mr. Fisher had the offer insured with Lloyd's of London.

REGRET LAPSE

Mr. Ecroyd said he very much regretted the lapse of the offer but pointed out CTA had reserved the right to withdraw it at any time. He suggested the B.C. government be asked to renew the reward. So far, no one has put in a legitimate bid.

DIDN'T HAVE CAMERA

Mrs. Welder didn't have a camera with her yesterday but she told the Courier, "If I'd had a speedboat, I would have been out there in a flash!"

She said she first saw what she thought was a big wave about 300 yards out in the lake. "Then two humps showed. I let out a gasp and everybody got excited."

"NO ILLUSION"

Mrs. Welder said it was moving very slowly parallel to the beach.

"It was there for about a minute. I couldn't see a head but there was a large portion at one end. It went down and then surfaced again about 200 yards closer to the bridge. Whatever it was, it was much higher than the waves."

"I'm quite happy to have seen it even if no one believes me. It definitely wasn't an illusion. I hope I see it again but closer next time."

Both Mrs. Welder's sons, Michael, five, and Billy, 10, saw the creature and were as excited as their mom.

The Ogo sighting yesterday was the fourth reported so far this season. Only one attempt to photograph has been made so far this year by three high school students near Okanagan Centre. But that was in vain.

Last year, Ogo wasn't sighted too often. With the advent of Regatta and hot weather, it is a more frequent occurrence.

There are hundreds of members in the "I Believe in Ogo" club, many of them local citizens who have sworn affidavits to the effect their eyes weren't deceiving them.

HAPPY MONSTER

Most popular conception of the sea monster is that of a laughing, horse-faced serpent-like creature in colors ranging from light to dark green and in length ranging from 15 to 50 feet long with three predominant humps as it unfurls itself along the water.

One of the legends surrounding it is the Indian folklore that several braves mysteriously disappeared beneath the lake's surface as well as a few head of livestock, thanks to the creature they call "Nai-taka."

However, Ogo is generally considered a friend of boats and swimmers, who prefers the sanctuary of the deep, cool lake to parading himself in front of startled watchers.

STURGEONS?

A more scientific theory has it that Ogo is a sturgeon or possibly two sturgeons, a fish somewhat out of water in these parts but known to grow to a length of eight to 11 feet and considerably larger in some cases.

Whatever he is, he has become a sensational tourist attraction for Lake Okanagan. But most people are likely to see him decorating stationery, place mats, match covers, store windows, and signs.

Ogo has achieved an international reputation second only to the Loch Ness monster. In his fan clubs' secret hearts, it is hoped he is never found out.

Truck Driver Helps Local Tourism

Here's how to help the tourist industry in Kelowna: a California couple Mr. and Mrs. Ed Grainger of Modesto, were near Kelowna for a brief visit recently when their car had a blow-out.

They no sooner stopped when a "Seven-Up" truck, driven by a Kelowna man pulled up behind them and went to work and changed the tire on their car.

According to Mrs. Grainger, in a letter to the Kelowna firm, the driver would accept no remuneration and, in fact, did not even mention his name.

However, sharp-eyed Mrs. Grainger heard the driver of a second truck, which stopped to aid, call him "Bruce". Armed with information, Mrs. Grainger wrote to Vic Haddad of Seven-Up Kelowna Ltd. and asked him to pass on their gratitude to "Bruce", who turned out to be Bruce Fenton.

In closing, Mrs. Grainger says that this kind of courtesy extended to tourists creates an urge to return to Kelowna.

Regatta Dates Cause Problem

The 1963 Regatta dates were tentatively set for August 7, 8, 9, and 10 at last night's wind-up Regatta Committee meeting.

Some problems have arisen over the Peach Festival dates which were advanced a week ahead to August 14-18 for next year.

Traditionally, the Penticon carnival is held the week prior to Regatta. Local members aren't particularly enthusiastic about holding the Regatta at the end of August.

One comment was: "Even if the two dates do coincide . . . so what? People could spend two days there and two here at the Regatta."

The Regatta secretary was asked to contact Penticon immediately to get some confirmation of the dates announced.

Tonight at the arena another figure skating demonstration will be given by the members of the Kelowna Summer School of Skaters.

At the last concert held, over 500 attended to enjoy the program. These skating demonstrations are held weekly and are free to the public.

Tonight the program will feature solos given by Myrna Benedict, Ted Bowman, Karen Fitchel, and Jeanette Schmutz of Saskatoon, and Judy Topp of Edmonton. A duet will be skated by Lynn and Gail Paton of Edmonton.

A few surprise numbers will add to the enjoyment of the evening, and waltz demonstrations given by all the members will be interspersed throughout the solos.

Water Bombing Demonstration Requested

Some arrangements may be made next week for a water bombers' demonstration similar to the exhibition during July's Kalamalka Lake swim.

It was suggested the Forest Service Avenger's put on a show of their firefighting techniques on the Wednesday afternoon or evening of Regatta.

A Regatta member said providing there were no fires to fight and there was plenty of open water, the water bombers could do a show. "After all, we couldn't want them dropping a load on some tower."

WOMEN TRAVELLERS WITH AN INTERNATIONAL TOUCH

"Les Girls" were in Kelowna yesterday on the last legs of a tent-and-travel trip that has brought them from Hamilton the hard way. The five lovely gals are all nurses; three are en route to staff jobs at the new Wil-

Yvette Berlin, Paris. By the rear door is Dorli Bitterlin, Basle, Switzerland and on hood is Patricia Merminod of London, England. The "United Nations" nurses worked for a while in the Ontario city's hospital before embarking westward.—(Courier Photo)

Apricots in Full Swing — Peaches Coming Along

While apricot harvest continues at a fast clip in most parts of the valley, picking of peaches is starting in some areas.

Harvest of apricots is winding up in Oliver and is in full swing in the Penticon district. Picking is also underway in the North Okanagan and Kootenay orchards.

Kelowna and Vernon expect Spotlight peach picking to begin next week to be followed by Redhaves.

Here is the full weekly report of the Horticultural branch:

TREE FRUITS

PEACHES: Oliver reports the Redhaves are being harvested and Jubilees are starting. Generally the size looks good. V. peaches are about 10 days to two weeks away. Spotlights and Redhaves are starting in the Shillikameen and should start next week in Penticon. Golden Jubilee harvest will begin late next week in Penticon. Summerland reports early Rochesters are on fruit stands and Redhaves are a week to 10 days away. Crops are doing quite well.

are making an economic survey of the province," said Mr. Bonner.

"You might add however, that when the fog of confusion created by the metropolitan dailies is lifted, you will find that the B.C. economy and investment expansion is the greatest it's ever been," added Mr. Bonner.

Mr. Bonner was reluctant to discuss the personalities composing the party.

Sneak Thief Grabs $65 From Local Apartment

Theft of money from a Kelowna resident's apartment and two minor motor vehicle accidents were reported by RCMP today.

Mrs. A. Shea of the Kent Apartments on Bernard Avenue reported that a sneak thief had stolen $65 from her room when she was absent between the hours of 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. yesterday.

Police are investigating the theft.

ACCIDENTS
At about 6 p.m. yesterday, cars driven by Andrew Marusiak of Vancouver and Thomas Towgood of Olympe, were in collision at Bernard and Glenmore.

Damage was estimated at about $125 total to both cars. No one was hurt.

A second accident at 6:30 p.m. at the intersection of Sutherland and Caroline streets resulted in minor damage and no injuries to those involved.

Drivers were John Nicholas of 1149 Brookside road, and M. McFarlane of 1966 Carruthers street.

JOHNNY DUNN ACTORS IN REHEARSAL
"Johnny's wife is big and stern" is the description that fits the spouse of the lead character in Kelowna Little Theatre's Regatta production of the light-hearted musical drama "Johnny Dunn" now in rehearsal at the Legion.

Unflattering as it may be, the role is being played by former KLT president Mary Sundin pictured in one of her more nagging poses. Narrator for the show is Don Haines who tells the story in conjunction with the acting and singing of the chorus and the principals.

Money for the chamber office opening for an extra two hours past the 9 p.m. deadline already in effect, will be discussed with the city later.

Mayor Parkinson said it was of utmost importance to plan at least Regatta-time accommodation to assure visitors a place to stay so that Kelowna "won't get a black eye."

All private accommodation will be inspected by chamber of commerce committee.

Attending the meeting were Aldermen E. Winter, A. J. Trendgold, A. Jackson, L. A. N. Potterton, Fred Heatley, Bud Mooney, Alf Amey, Robert Wilson, Gerry Elliott, RCMP Staff Sergeant R. B. McKay, Thomas McLaughlin, William Halyk and the press.

In connection with the decision, Alderman A. J. Trendgold will head a committee to arrange for a sign at Harvey Avenue and Ritchie Street, informing incoming tourists of the accommodation headquarters at the chamber office, together with the telephone number of the office.

And as a climax to these arrangements, a list of private homes who will provide beds during Regatta week if necessary, will be published and advertised for the convenience of tourists and visitors.

Tourist accommodation representatives pointed out to the meeting that no trouble had been experienced to date in but Mayor R. B. Parkinson and representatives of the chamber of commerce, local hostels and tourist accommodation bodies met at His Worship's request this morning to make doubly sure all who visit the Apple Capital have the best accommodation possible, even in the crowded midst of Regatta week.

Temperate Foodstuffs Problem Unsolved

On Wednesday last representatives of Britain and the six Common Market countries sat down to tackle the problem of trade in temperate foodstuffs.

It has always been recognized that this would be a very intractable problem for which to find solutions giving adequate assurances for continued access to the ECM for traditional Commonwealth suppliers. The problem divides basically into three parts—the transitional period up to the Common Market stage, the world-wide agreement which would offer solutions after this stage has been reached, and the "bridge" needed to meet the position at the end of the transitional period for commodities on which world-wide agreements had not yet been concluded.

Britain has tabled her own proposals to solve the overall problem. In return, the Six have submitted their paper, but it falls short of the assurances which in the British view are necessary to safeguard Commonwealth interests.

The intensive discussions over three days were entirely on ways in which the provisions of the Community draft could be modified and expanded in order to meet Britain's essential requirements.

There are five elements in the discussions—price, policy, continued access, world-wide agreements, transitional arrangements, and the "bridge." As price policy would be an important factor affecting production within the enlarged ECM, its influence inevitably extends to the remaining elements.

A great deal of hard work has been done on the problem, and on some aspects of it—world-wide agreements, transitional arrangements and the "bridge"—there has been some progress.

The present crisis revolves around what has now become the key question—Community farm price policy and its effect on continued access to the enlarged Community for external suppliers.

Britain's request for continued access to be accepted openly as part of the draft paper has not been met. Instead the Six have put forward price policy as the means by which this objective could be achieved. But they have so far refused to commit themselves to a definition which would state that price policy would be designed to this end.

A policy of low prices would tend to create conditions within the enlarged Community under which imports would be a continuing feature. On the other hand, high price policy would stimulate internal production, leading to the Community becoming increasingly self-sufficient in temperate agricultural products and thus closing the door to external importers. In some commodities it could even produce unwanted surpluses within the Community.

It will be seen, therefore, that from the British point of view it is vital that the Community attitude should be clearly stated. The present vague statement in the paper by the Six falls far short of the type of assurance which Britain will need if she is to be persuaded that Commonwealth interests will be adequately safeguarded.

The issue is one which affects not only Commonwealth countries—it directly affects all exporting third countries. It raises the question of whether the Common Market is to be a self-sufficient inward looking Community with doors effectively barred to world trade in temperate foodstuffs, or whether it will be an outward looking expansive Community aware of its international obligations and playing its full role in world trade.

That some members of the Six are aware of the dangers posed by the first alternative is indicated by the Belgian attitude expressed by the Deputy Foreign Minister, M. Fayat. In his view the problem of comparable outlets was one which lay not so much between Britain and the Commonwealth as between the enlarged Community and the outside world. He said it was inconceivable that the Community could be unconscious of its world obligations.

The fact that temperate foodstuffs will be the main subject for discussion when ministers resume their talks Wednesday suggests that the last word has not been said on the Community's attitude to the external world and world trade in agricultural produce.

"ACH, HERR BONAPARTE, THEY MAKE IT LOOK SO EASY!"

Mao's Great Leap Forward Replaced By Desperation

TOKYO (AP)—Mao Tse-tung coined the phrase "a great leap forward" to describe Communist China's 1958 surge to ward the front ranks of industrialization.

Today "the great leap forward" slogan has been replaced by one of desperation. It is "rescue food from the mouth of the dragon," the cry of the Chinese peasant as he tries to wrest a good harvest from the reluctant land.

Thousands of refugees storming the gates of Hong Kong in June are witnesses to the failure of "the great leap forward."

The failure has left China a land of hunger, hard times and malaise.

Peking now is jittery, a fact which indicates possible low morale, uncertainty and fear in a once-confident leadership.

Mao, chairman of the Chinese Communist party, dreamed four years ago of pushing his backward country from feudalism into the 20th century almost overnight. He moved 500,000,000 peasants out of agricultural co-operatives and put them in 26,000 farm communes, one of the greatest mass movements in human history.

Throughout his life of struggle, Mao, now 68, had displayed a peculiar Chinese characteristic: infinite patience. Not once, but many times, he said to this writer that communism would be a slow, patient process for China, one in which controlled capitalism and agricultural co-operatives would exist for a long time.

Following this policy, the progress of the first eight years of communism had been steady and impressive. The countryside yielded record crops, industry was beginning to emerge, the 48-hour week had been introduced for the laborer and the standard of existence had inched upward.

Suddenly, with bewildering speed, he tore up the blueprint and gambled away all these gains on a single throw of the dice.

From the outset, his new plan ran into opposition—intellectuals, students, even members of the armed forces.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev was appalled by Mao's commune plan. Khrushchev saw it as a latter-day version of Russia's own new economic plan of the 1920s that resulted in the death of millions of land-owning Kulaks and made scars in Soviet agriculture that continue to plague Russia today.

The quarrel has, over the years, deepened and festered. Mao wanted results and he got them—or so it seemed. The farmers were set to work tilling their fields by day and working home-made iron blast furnaces by floodlight at night.

The official figures published for 1958 boasted of 11,080,000 tons of steel produced, 373,000,000 tons of grain harvested.

The truth was bitterly different.

Harried cadres, anxious to prove the greatness of the plan, had exaggerated or falsified facts. Weary peasants, disillusioned by the loss of their lands, refused to work, abandoned their livestock.

The pace left worker and peasant exhausted and dispirited.

To cap it all, nature struck with terrible destruction, flooding the lands, parching them with drought, denuding them with insect plagues.

Mao had no alternative but to admit that the 1958 figures were catastrophically wrong; only 8,000,000 tons of steel, only 250,000,000 tons of grain.

To arrest the downhill plunge, Mao ordered millions of city dwellers out of the factories and onto the farms, leaving the new industrial complexes silent, uninhabited shells.

The struggle to recover from the shocks of 1958, 1959 and 1960 has proceeded in grim silence. No figures have been released to the Chinese or to the world.

Starvation apparently now has receded. But hunger, hard times and unemployment remain. The Communist leaders now admit the healing process will be long and arduous.

Now light has been thrown on actual conditions then and today, by Toshio Takano, a 44-year-old Japanese military policeman turned automobile mechanic. Returning to Japan in June with his Chinese wife and six children after 25 years on the mainland, he said in an interview whole villages died of starvation during the "great leap forward."

He recalled that up to 1957 "we could buy rice and clothing freely." His salary of 95 yuan ($39.50) a month was adequate for his then-small family.

As the great leap developed, Takano and the 400 mechanics and 600 truck drivers in his state-run plant at Chn Chiu in Honan province, found themselves working 16 hours every day.

In 1958, communes were introduced in the cities. But in 1960 Takano was offered the chance to leave them. He and 70 per cent of the city's Chinese did, he said.

But not everything in Mao's China is bleak. Public hygiene, he said, is better than under the nationalists. So are transportation, hospital care—which is free—education and rents. He paid two yuan—less than $1—for two rooms and a kitchen without running water.

OTTAWA REPORT

Canada's Languages

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

The increase of the minority racial groups within our population is gradually eroding the French-Canadian language.

This conclusion announces itself inescapably from the figures just released by the census division of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics here, covering the languages spoken by Canadians.

The census taken last year revealed that the number of Canadians whose mother tongue is neither English nor French had increased substantially since the 1951 census. On that earlier date, 1,659,770 Canadians claimed as their mother tongue neither of our two official languages; Ukrainians was the language of the largest group, closely followed by German.

But this latest census, taken last year, showed that 2,454,561 Canadians claimed a mother tongue other than English or French. This increase represented a slight growth from 11.7 to 13.4 per cent of the population.

KNOW OFFICIAL LANGUAGE

Of our two official languages, English is spoken by 67.2 per cent of Canadians, French by 18.0 per cent, and both these languages by 12.2 per cent. That leaves 13 Canadians in every 1,000 who speak neither English nor French.

These figures reflect a slight swing away from use of the French language, as proportionately fewer Canadians can speak French alone or French and English; but a slightly larger proportion can speak English only, of our two official languages.

Familiarity with both our official languages is substantially higher in Quebec than in any other province. One Quebecer in every four is bilingual; and this is three times the proportion attained by Ontario. 12 per cent of Quebecers can speak English but not French; the overspill of French-Canadians into New Brunswick is reflected by the still comparatively low percentage of 62 there who speak English but not French. In our other provinces, the percentage who thus speak English only, of our two official languages, ranges from 39 in Ontario to 98 in Newfoundland. Prince Edward Island boasts the lowest provincial total of citizens who can speak neither French nor English, namely 178; Ontario predictably boasts the largest—nearly 100,000. But it is Manitoba which has the largest percentage in this category, with two in every 100 Manitobans speaking neither of our official languages.

ALL OUR LANGUAGES

Metropolitan Montreal contains more bilingual Canadians than any other city; while metropolitan Toronto contains more residents who can speak neither English nor French than any other city or county in Canada.

The "true-blue" county of Carleton, Ontario offers a curiosity. The electoral constituency of Carleton, which almost coincides with the county, is known as Canada's most Conservative seat, and has never failed to send a Conservative MP to parliament. Yet it rates highest in Canada in the "Tower of Babel" stakes, excluding the two huge cities. Carleton boasts more English-French bilingualism even than Quebec City; it houses more people who can speak neither language than Sudbury or Thunder Bay—but is narrowly nosed out in this respect by Kenora.

Purists might comment that statistics such as these take no account of linguistic skill. Mr. John A. Dunn of Westmeath, Ontario, recently wrote me an interesting letter along this line, in which he complained justifiably that "listening to our TV and radio, one finds that their English language is below ordinary standards in pronunciation." At least the CBC might be expected to strive to maintain correct and consistent pronunciation; many would agree with Mr. Dunn that it fails. Some might even go so far as to pronounce Quebecer who recently confided to me his findings that, whereas the French spoken in his province is frequently terrible—"joul," it has been called, the English spoken in Ontario is just as often just as terrible in grammar, vocabulary and accent.

British Railways Situation "Grim"

By M. MCINTYRE HOOD

Special London (Eng.) Correspondent
For The Daily Courier

LONDON — In the opinion of W. H. Rathbone, president of the National Union of Railwaymen, the future of the railway industry is "grimmer than at any previous time."

Speaking to the delegates to the conference of the union at Margate, he said that if the government continued with its policy of closing all lines that are uneconomic, 150,000 railwaymen would lose their jobs.

Mr. Rathbone was discussing the government's new Transport Bill, which he described as "yet another stage in the calculated destruction of the railway system."

"At a time when traffic on our roads reaches saturation point and the government is bent on destroying our railroads, the Tories' debt to the road haulage industry must be a heavy one."

The Transport Bill provides for the replacement of the British Transport Commission by a British Railways Board, Mr. Rathbone said.

"The new boards will obviously consist of representatives of big businesses who will faithfully serve their Tory government masters. There is no indication that there will be an adequate representation of workers engaged in the industry."

Since 1950, 301 branch lines, serving 3,000 route miles or 10 per cent of British railways, have been closed. There has also been a substantial reduction of staffs at several of the railway workshops.

WANT NEW OUTLOOK

All of this was disturbing to the union president. He called for a new and enlightened approach to the problem of the men who will lose their jobs on the railways. He said:

"There must be new and better safeguards for surplus staff by way of adequate compensation payments, improved disturbance allowance, retention of pension rights and better travelling facilities. We must stand steadfastly by our union policy of no dismissals."

AGAINST STRIKES

Sidney Green, general secretary of the NUR, however, warned the conference against the use of strikes as an effective method of realising the closure of uneconomic railway lines. He said he preferred to put his trust in arousing public opinion against the government.

Mr. Green, who takes a more realistic view of the railway situation than does Mr. Rathbone, put the situation squarely before the delegates when he said:

"I don't mind people arguing about industrial action or the full force of the union, whatever that means, but when a man's job is going, he is a bit worried about any sort of action. He is only hoping the union will be able to safeguard his job, and the only way we are able to do that is to get the enthusiasm of the general public behind us in a desire to keep the railway industry going."

The conference was a bit confused by the divergent views expressed by the union leaders, but after a three-hour debate, it adopted a resolution instructing the executive to use all legitimate means within the union's power to secure acceptance of our policies." But opinions differed as to what means were legitimate, as to what the union policies exactly were.

Independant Jamaica

On Monday, August 6, the British dependency of Jamaica will become an independent nation. It is expected it will remain within the Commonwealth.

Jamaica, with an area of 4,411 square miles, has a population of 1,638,000. The great majority are of African or mixed descent, and there is a sizable East Indian community, as well as people of Chinese, European and other origins. All live and work together in harmony.

The new nation possesses a well-established two-party system of government and a public service acknowledged to be capable and of high integrity. Since 1959 when it became internally self-governing, Jamaica has been largely responsible for its own affairs, and there has been a wholly elected house of representatives since 1944 when universal adult suffrage was introduced. The new constitution which comes into effect with independence, will provide for a bicameral legislature with a senate of 21 members and a house of representatives of 45 elected members.

Both Jamaica's main political parties are relatively long-established and both are led by their founders. The government party, the Jamaican Labor Party, led by the premier, Sir Alexander Bustamante, was formed in 1943; the opposition party, the People's National Party, led by Mr. Norman Manley, was formed in 1938. At the last general election in April 1962 the JLP defeated the PNP, which had been in office since 1955, by winning 26 of the 45 seats in the house of representatives.

The new nation is but another example of Britain's enlightened policy of granting independence to the units of her former Empire. Jamaica, like most other former British dependencies, and unlike the Belgian and French, starts out on its own with a trained and capable civil service and a background of democratic government.

So another new nation is born. Pity the poor student of geography. And the map-makers!

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Find Cause Then Cure

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My daughter-in-law has a very low blood count. She has had transfusions, and is taking iron shots every other day but this is expensive. Is there any new treatment? Any diet? She is only in her late 20's.—MRS. J.E.M.

There is nothing especially "new" in treatment. Anemia, or low red blood cell count, can result either from loss of blood itself, or from something that destroys or interferes with the formation of new red cells.

It is imperative to find out the cause of a serious case; otherwise you waste time and money treating the wrong thing.

In a young woman one looks first for blood loss—frequent or heavy menstrual periods; sometimes a subtle loss, perhaps little noticed by the patient, such as hemorrhoids, or even an ulcer. Obviously the answer is to stop or control the bleeding, and the anemia then corrects itself.

Underactive thyroid functioning is often associated with anemia; in such a case thyroid medication is effective.

Chronic infection can cause anemia; so can lead (or other metal) poisoning; sometimes fumes such as are found in certain cleaning compounds. Parasitic infestation (a type of fish work, tapeworm or the like) sometimes is the cause, and is stubborn to correct.

Pernicious anemia, once deadly but no longer so, is rare in persons in their 20's; it is seen more often after 40. Periodic injections of Vitamin B12 are the answer, and the patient can be taught to give them, just as diabetics administer insulin shots to themselves.

Iron injections are usually reserved for patients who cannot tolerate iron in pill form—the ills are low in cost but occasionally they irritate the digestive tract.

Transfusions are sometimes needed, of course, but are not a cure, any more than you can repair a leaky tub by constantly refilling it. Fix the leak!

As to diet, people who eat lots of starch foods at the expense of getting enough meat and vegetables, tend toward anemia. A balanced diet is necessary.

Keep in mind that the all-important step in correcting a serious anemia is thorough, expert diagnosis of the trouble.

Dear Dr. Molner: My small son is to have heart catheterization. The doctor told me he will feel no pain except where they insert the tube. I can hardly believe this.—MRS. W.D.

The tiny tube is inserted in a vein, then slid up the arm and into the chest until it enters the heart. Since there are no sensory nerves along the vein, he will not feel any pain, any more than you ever feel the blood as it flows through a vein. There will be slight discomfort only where the skin is cut to start the tube.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a boy who has a bed-wetting problem. Next month I am to go on a three-day trip and I wonder what I can do to stop before then.—C.J.

Recently a group of doctors found, after some studies, that if a person holds water until absolutely necessary to release it, this tends to stretch the bladder and in time permit it to hold more. Maybe this can help somewhat before your trip, but it will take longer for full results. Meantime try cutting down on liquids after 6 p.m.

Bermuda Honeymoon Follows Pretty Vancouver Ceremony

The altar of the Canadian Memorial Church in Vancouver was decorated with tall white candles, and backed with a beautiful arrangement of white gladioli and chrysanthemums, while two large baskets of similar flowers stood at either side of the altar steps, on July 27 at 7:30 p.m., when Eileen Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Cryderman of Kelowna became the bride of Garfield Wayne Puder of Vancouver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Puder of Creston, B.C.

Dr. L. B. Campbell officiated at the ceremony and the soloist, Mrs. Richard Puder of Toronto, sang "The Lord's Prayer".

The lovely bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a classic white gown of pure silk organza over taffeta having a full floor-length skirt and a shirred bodice trimmed with lace and seed pearls which featured a scoop neckline and long illipoint sleeves. A bandeau of ribbons dotted with seed pearls held her chapel-length nylon veil, and a lace handkerchief of her paternal grandmother represented "something borrowed—something old." She carried a bouquet of red rosebuds intermingled with stephanotis.

Mrs. David Campbell of Vancouver, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and the bridesmaid was her cousin, Miss Helen King, of Minneapolis. Their pretty dresses of blue organza over taffeta were similar and they wore matching floral ribbon headbands and carried bouquets of white carnations.

The charming flower girl was the bride's niece, Sandra Campbell of Vancouver, who wore a dress of white organza with a wide blue sash, a matching ribbon bandeau on her hair, and carried a heart-shaped bouquet of white carnations.

The groom's brother, Mr. Richard Puder of Toronto, was his best man, and Mr. Terrence Warren and Mr. Douglas Cryderman, brother of the bride from Victoria, acted as ushers.

At the reception following the ceremony which was held at the Point Grey Golf and Country Club, the mother of the bride received the guests wearing a sheath dress of beige lace and organza with beige accessories, complemented by a rose colored hat and a corsage of deep pink rosebuds, while the bridegroom's mother chose a pure silk sheath of avocado green with a smart hat in blending shades of green and she wore a corsage of white gardenias.

Centering the bride's table was a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom standing under a frosted archway, which was flanked by tall white candles and surrounded with vases of deep pink rosebuds. Presiding at the urns were the bride's aunt Mrs. Sydney King of Minneapolis, Minn., Mrs. Bruce Turnbull of Victoria, Mrs. Jack McNaughton of Vancouver and Mrs. Charles Porter of Yarrow, B.C.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. M. F. Barthel of Richmond and was aptly answered by the groom. The best man, Mr. Richard Puder, gave the toast to the bridesmaids.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding included Mrs. Sydney King, the bride's aunt, and her cousin Miss Helen King from Minneapolis, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Puder of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Porter of Yarrow, B.C.; Mr. Douglas Cryderman of Victoria;

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Turnbull of Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Catchpole of North Surrey; Miss Idelle Hanna of Quesnel; Mrs. C. E. Maille and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Shaw of Kelowna; Mrs. Gordon Robertson of Winnipeg; Mr. Richard Melcher of Hawaii; Miss Eleanor Peterson of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. W. Rickson of Coquitlam; and Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Bartlett of Richmond.

Before leaving on her honeymoon to Bermuda by air the bride changed to a pale grey dress and coat ensemble with brown accessories, and a brown orchid on tone with her costume. Mr. and Mrs. Puder plan to return from Bermuda to Toronto by air where they will pick up their car and drive back to the Coast. They will reside at 1156 West 12th Avenue, Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Puder of Toronto, who were the bride's father and mother, will be in the city for the wedding.

ANN LANDERS

Marriage Is Forever

Dear Ann Landers: Two years ago my parents got a divorce. I didn't understand what was happening. All I knew was my Dad didn't come home anymore. When I asked my mother where Daddy was she told me he was a terrible man and she wouldn't let him live in the house with us.

Now I am 13 years old and I know more, but it doesn't make me feel any better. When I am with my friends and they talk about their parents I get a lump in my throat. A girl who is now in the crowd asked me why I never mentioned my father. I told her he and my mother were divorced. She wanted to know if it hurt when I talk about him. I lied and said no.

Right now I'd settle for any kind of a father so long as I could have one. When I get married I am going to make my husband sign a paper saying he will never divorce me so long as we have children. I will put up with anything for this sake—OLD FOR MY YEARS.

Dear Old For My Years: Thank you for your fine letter. All people who marry sign a paper promising to stay together till death parts them. But sometimes they forget their promise when things get rough. Most people who get divorced go on to make bigger and better messes of their lives. They select—

Dior Features New Forward Arrow Line

PARIS (Reuters)—Dior's new "arrow" silhouette, unveiled today in the Paris winter fashion showings, keeps a short hemline just below the kneecap.

The theme is the forward movement, with cone-shaped skirts jutting out in front. Waistlines are natural. Belts play an important part in the silhouette, being set into the dress or jacket or featured in wide supple leather.

Bodices are restrained, with high collarless necklines and narrow straight sleeves. The look is not revolutionary, and will not outdate last year's fashion.

SOBRIETY PAYS OFF Sobriety pays off at Dior. The naturally shaped silhouette skims over the body and out in front with an inverted cone seam or deep pleat. The back of the skirt is straight and flat.

Marc Bohan, the Dior designer, has replaced last season's squared matchbox skirt by the gentle flare beneath a smooth slim hipline.

Waistlines are marked at the natural place by side leather sashes, shaped yokes, or insets that rise to the rib cage. The top of the silhouette remains simple and unadorned. Dresses have high collarless necklines with necklaces that have no clasp and leave the back of the neck exposed as accessories.

BETTER THAN '60

Some Labor Shortages In Employment Picture

VERNON (Staff) — A favorable employment condition exists in the area served by Vernon local office of the National Employment Service, according to O. N. Tingle, manager.

At the present time there are 507 male and 327 female unemployed. These figures compare favorably with the same period last year. A very strong lumber market to date has created a shortage of skilled sawmill and woods workers. No forest fires of any consequence have been reported to date, consequently all bush workers are remaining on the job with no closures to date in spite of the hot weather.

In the agricultural industry, there are over 200 local school students employed picking beans, small fruit, etc. The local cannery operations are running a little behind last year but will soon be reaching their peak production in the near future.

The opening of the Rogers Pass has placed a heavy demand on service workers and a shortage of experienced waitresses has developed.

Building and construction workers in some categories are in demand, especially skilled tradesmen.

There is an over abundance of sales clerks and office clerks registered. Good stenographers are at a premium.

It is expected that the peak period of employment in the area will come in September with the demand for packing house workers, apple pickers. At the present time we do not anticipate any difficulty in recruiting sufficient help for the apple harvest.

Vernon Issues Warning On Wastages Of Water

VERNON—With temperatures in the mid-nineties, day after day, and Vernon entertaining a large number of tourists—to say nothing of the cadet camp, the question of domestic water is a major one.

Coldstream Building Permits Fall

COLDSTREAM (Staff)—Building permits values for the first seven months this year are down nearly $90,000 from last year's total of $334,880, and the record year of 1960 when values totalled $372,495, building inspector J. F. Trehearn reported today.

July totals for the three years is also considerably lower. Values for July this year were $28,900 compared to July 1961 at $42,700 and in 1960 at $63,150.

Residential building also decreased during July compared to last year. Values for July 1962 were $13,700 compared to $39,800 in 1961, and $57,900 in July 1960.

City hall spokesmen today issued a warning against waste of water. It is frustrating to city executives to see water running down the gutters, the result of thoughtless and ineffective garden watering.

Residents are reminded of the city bylaw, which prohibits garden watering between the hours of 11 p.m. and 6 a.m. daily.

Consumption during this hot weather is about three times that used normally. Using last Monday, as a typical example: consumption that day was 3,848,000. Consumption for the week of July 23-30, 30,320,300.

These figures include the water used at the Vernon Cadet Camp. This is measured by meters, and paid for on a meter basis, by the Department of National Defence.

Tourists Thank Vernon

VERNON (Staff)—Some Wally Byam caravanners who were here recently remember Vernon for its rain.

Dr. Eugene Birchwood of Chicago in a letter to Chamber of Commerce secretary Ed Evans praised the Vernon McIntosh Girls' Pipe Band; the gracious hospitality they received here; and lauded the hard work of preparation by Mr. Evans for the visit. They ended their letter: "... haven't had a good shower since we left Vernon."

Another caravanner, George R. Seals, of Victorville, Calif., in a letter to the editor of his home town Victor Press said of Vernon: "Water, water everywhere. A land of trees and lakes and very friendly people. A city down in a little valley surrounded by beautiful hills covered with green trees and on the slopes are orchards, fields of green grass and beautiful homes."

Mr. Seals told his Victorville reader that B.C. roads are very good "and they are building more."

McIntosh Pipers Play At Regatta

VERNON — The McIntosh Girls Pipe Band will play in the Kelowna Regatta street parade at 3 p.m. August 8, and give a concert in the park immediately after as well as take part in the main parade at 6 p.m.

August 15 and 16, the band will play two days at the Chilliwack Fair, proceeding on Saturday, August 18 to Vancouver, where they will march in the Pacific National Exhibition parade. Band director is Malcolm McCulloch; Miss Marcia Mikloz, drum major; Miss Sheanne McCulloch, pipe major.

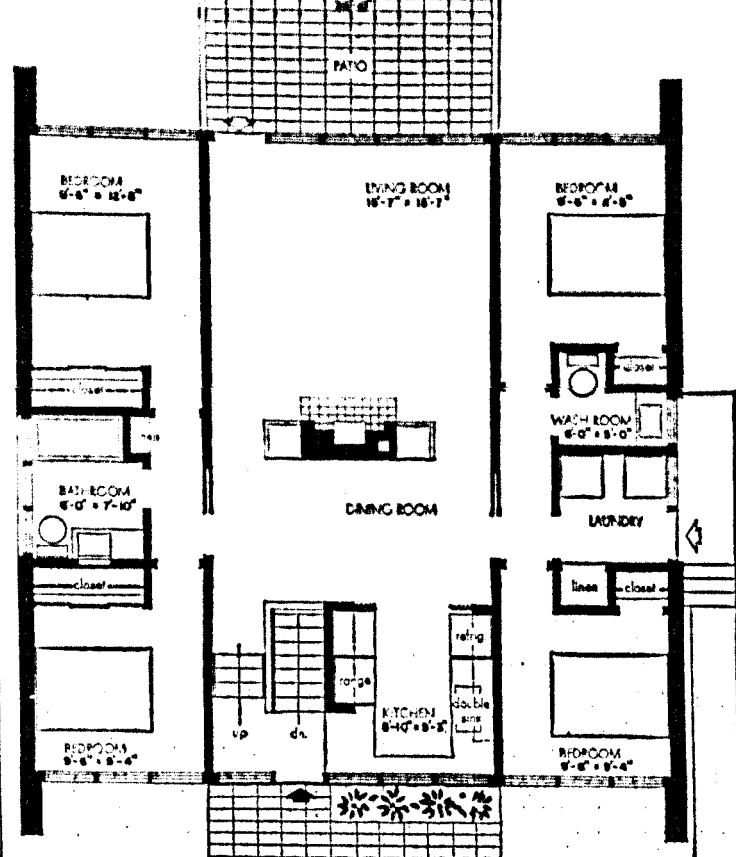

AMA Approves Fat Curb Plan

CHICAGO (AP) — The American Medical Association Thursday approved today the idea of modifying the type and amount of fat in the diet as an experimental means of treating hardening of the arteries.

It was the first stand by the AMA on the controversial question of diet and heart disease.

UNCOMMON LAYOUT

Here's a big-family house of unusual living space on two floors through use of the split-level entrance. The unconventional in exterior design and the unusual in interior layout are distinct features of this four-bedroom house by architects Denis and Freda O'Connor of Edmonton. The uncommon layout results in a bedroom in each corner of the house with a bathroom separating the two bedrooms on one side and a washroom, laundry and side entrance between the bedrooms on the other side. A fireplace separates the dining and kitchen areas from the living room which overlooks a raised terrace at the rear of the house. Large window areas at both the front and rear of the house provide a well-lighted interior. The lower floor provides space for a playroom, sewing room, den, hobby room and storage. The floor area is 1,326 square feet and the exterior dimensions are 36 feet, 10 inches by 42 feet. Working drawings for this house, known as Design 811, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

AIDS TO HOMEOWNERS

Natural Copper Gutters Can Be Smartened Up

QUESTION: We will soon have to replace our present gutters and downspouts. Is there any way to retain the natural color of copper? We would prefer copper if it can be treated to keep its original luster.

ANSWER: Completely remove any protective coating or grease on the copper surface, after it begins to weather and wear off. Then apply two thin coats of top quality spar varnish allowing the first coat to dry thoroughly before applying the second. This treatment will keep the original luster of the copper, as long as the finish remains unbroken. If this occurs, simply retouch as needed.

RUBBERIZED RUG SKIDS
QUESTION: We have a rubberized pad under the length of carpeting in a short hall downstairs. When it was first put down it prevented skidding, but now it doesn't seem to stick to the floor underneath the way it did. There is a shellacked hardwood floor underneath which we have occasionally. How can we restore the usefulness of the pad?

ANSWER: The pad has probably acquired some of the wax on its surface from the floor underneath. Wash the underside of the pad with a detergent or warm suds solution, adding a small amount of ammonia; then rinse thoroughly with warm water, wipe off as much of the water as possible and allow to dry thoroughly. This should restore the nonskid qualities of the pad.

PROTECTING BRICKS
QUESTION: We have an electric grill set into a brick-enclosed area in a kitchen wall. How can we protect the bricks from becoming stained and absorbing greases when the grill is in use?

ANSWER: If the bricks are rough-textured give them a coat of clear lacquer, applied with an aerosol or spray gun. If the brick is smooth, the following treatment will protect them against grease spots: To a thoroughly clean brick surface apply a soaking coat of a mixture of three parts boiled linseed oil and one turpentine, allowing to soak in for about a half hour, then wiping off any excess oil. After several days, repeat the soaking oil treatment. This treatment will darken the brick slightly, but not affect the general appearance; try it on an obscure place to see how you like the result.

BROKEN CHAIR
QUESTION: We have an antique "ice cream parlor chair." One of the side pieces had broken off and we can't make it fast as it was with the original bolt. A "curlicue" on the end was held to the seat with a bolt and that broke off. How can it be attached again? It's made of iron, hard to bend as it pops out every time. Must it be welded, and if so, by whom? I hate to throw it out as we need it badly — and money too!

ANSWER: For good reasons, don't throw such a nice old antique out. Take it to a good machine shop (consult your classified telephone directory) where they should have no difficulty in welding another piece to make a tight connection.

PREFABRICATED HOME
QUESTION: We want to put up another building on our property. Using a prefabricated building has been suggested to us. Where can we find out about the manufacturers, types, etc.

ANSWER: Your building supplies dealer or lumber yard may be able to supply this information. Or write to Prefabricated Home Manufacturers' Institute, 608 20th St., N.W., Washington 6, D.C.

Murals Change Room

Have you ever realized that you can give your rooms an almost instant change of atmosphere? Take for instance the terrific uplifting you can give a room simply by rearranging the furniture. Sometimes the difference between a good and bad interior lies only in its arrangement.

The addition of a wallpaper mural, which is a ready-made scene changer, is another effective, almost instant change which you can bring about. These days it's practical decoration too, for with the advent of the machine printed, ready pasted wallpaper murals you can create exciting atmospheres both quickly and inexpensively.

You have only to consider the type of atmosphere and the colors which you want to have in a particular room. For a light hearted kitchen or dining room there are murals depicting gay lights, parasols and flowers which are happy in color and design. Perhaps you'll want to give yourself a reminder of Summer in the bedroom. A six foot mural which shows a basketful of freshly picked flowers will do the job exquisitely.

When you want to set a particular mood, be it provincial, contemporary or traditional, you couldn't make a better choice than a wallpaper mural which has the characteristics of that style.

A type of catfish common to the Nile and some other African rivers normally swims and floats upside down.

Film Shows Popular

VERNON — Attendance at the outdoor film showing in Polson Park last Sunday evening was gratifying according to park officials.

The days are getting shorter and shows start earlier. Next Sunday's show should begin about 8:45 p.m.

The program then will include a color film on Tasmania, a vacation trip in Jasper National Park. Another color film, A Lake For The Prairie is a clear and vivid account of how a section of the South Saskatchewan River is to be made into a lake, 140 miles long to irrigate thousands of acres and provide electricity for industry and farms.

The Shell Oil film this week is Coupo Des Alps, a cross-country sports car race photographed in France, Italy and Switzerland.

These Sunday shows are passed along in circuit to Armstrong, Kelowna, Penticton and Pine Woods Lodge. They are selected by the National Film Board of Canada.

Vernon experienced only 297 hours of sunshine during July, about 15 hours short of the 313 hour average. Temperatures were average for this time of year with a 96 recorded as high, 40 low.

Minister of National Defence Douglas Hardness will inspect army cadets at the Vernon Military Camp August 9.

Tomato harvest is underway in Vernon and according to Brian Hodge, provincial department of agriculture an excellent crop is anticipated.

No forest fires have been reported in the Vernon area, but the fire hazard is still listed as high. Forest Ranger Alex Kulyter for the shortest time possible.

BEST RESULTS
To get the maximum benefit from vegetables, they should be cooked with a minimum of water for the shortest time possible.

POLICE COURT

VERNON (Staff) — Paul Victor Archand was fined $10 and costs for speeding a motor vehicle he was driving. John W. Benton was fined $25 and costs for being intoxicated in a public place.

Albert G. Munro and Norman Campbell, of no fixed address, were fined $25 and costs each for trespassing on Canadian National Railway property here. Ronald Sullivan was remanded in custody for trial August 10 after pleading not guilty to false pretense in connection with issuing a worthless cheque.

From the detail drawings you can see that all you have to do is build a frame of 2" x 3" lumber around a panel of plywood and you have your basic unit. Locate the positions of the top and bottom rows of flanges very carefully so the panels will swing smoothly and fit together properly when the screen is closed.

Decorate Your Back Yard With This Plywood "Blind"

Shown here is a sample of how you can arrange your outdoor living area with a handsome screen like this "vertical venetian blind." The plywood panel of which can be turned in line to form a solid wall or angled.

The best method is to mark the positions of the top flanges first, using the actual panel, of the completed panel. Then use a plumb bob and heavy weight around a string to get the bottom positions precisely below the top.

You Can Plan Holiday From Series of Brochures

Tickets for the four-day extravaganza are selling well. Mrs. Johnson reported this week.

She said she expected this weekend will be the first of the big rush for seats. "Actually, everyone of the 4,434 seats in the grandstand is an excellent one. You can see perfectly from them all," she smiled.

Between the two offices, there is a steady stream of questioners.

Disney should translate into the magic of animated cartoonery the highly imaginative story of "The Wonderful Adventures of Pinocchio", written by Carlo Lorenzini under the pen name of C. Collodi.

"Pinocchio", with color by Technicolor, follows the pattern of light opera. The music by Leigh Harline and the lyrics by Ned Washington of six songs further the plot rather than furnish merely a musical interlude. The music also collaborates on some novelty effects, such as the symphony of the clocks and the music boxes. This all-time favorite returns to the Paramount next Thursday for three days.

Second feature is "Bear Country". There will be matinees each day at 2 p.m. with evening shows at 7 and 9.

Teenage Greeters Required!

By SHERRY BAKER

Attention Teen Town!
Visiting teenagers in Kelowna are often at a loss for activities other than swimming and the usual during their stays in our fair city.

Why not form some sort of program by which regular get-togethers would be held open to all teenagers and make a point of inviting out-of-town-teens? Have frequent affairs—not just dances, but boating, sports, anything that says "fun!" Then these new teenagers could be taken right into the activities of Kelowna and would enjoy their stay more.

Also, this program would increase Kelowna's popularity as a summer resort. Friendship would bring back families next year.

Or, if this idea doesn't seem to be a catch-on-able one, why not have regular get-togethers for Kelowna's teenagers? Right now many teenagers are at a loss for activities because of the infrequency of planned assemblies of the young people.

Wouldn't it be fun to have different things to do and places to go often during the summer?

TRAVELLING FOOD
The so-called Johnny-cake, made of corn meal, an old favorite in the southern U.S., is possibly a corruption of "Johnny cake," a handy item for travellers.

STRONGER WHEN RAW
Most vegetables supply more vitamins and minerals when eaten raw, since they lose part of their nutrients in cooking.

HAWAIIAN PEAK
Highest point on the Hawaiian Islands is Mauna Kea, an extinct volcano towering 13,794 feet above sea level.

C OF C YEAR-ROUND

Unlike the Regatta office which is a "sometimes thing", the Chamber of Commerce is a going concern all year round.

In addition to the weekly C of C meetings of the executive which heads the 300 member organization, there are hundreds of letters to be answered in reply to information wanted about Kelowna and indeed the whole Okanagan Valley.

Mrs. Kuehn said last year the office answered something like 200 letters, mainly from Prairie people and Coast folks planning to spend their retirement here. And there were well over 500 letters alone asking for tourist information.

The office is also the headquarters of the Okanagan Valley Tourist Association which handles inquiries for the entire area from the Canadian-American border at Osoyoos to Sicamous and the entrance of the rogers Pass highway.

Prime purpose of the OVTA is to attract people to the area and to develop a sound tourist business here. This includes erection of signs to guide people in, tourist booths where information can be readily obtained and various other catchy projects.

Locally it has been felt that recent OVTA advertising in the Prairie papers has done a world of good to the area's tourist business.

Lively indeed these days is the Regatta and Chamber of Commerce offices, the spot to go if you really want to KNOW what's going on here.

LADY OF TOURIST BUREAU

Attractive Valerie Deacon, former Lady-of-the-Lake, dispenses charm and Regatta

tickets at the water show headquarters while next door at the Chamber of Commerce office, every possible kind of tourist-type question is answered.

Question Barrage Pounds Kelowna Tourist Bureau

"Could you tell me, please, where I could catch a 10 pound lake trout?"

"I have a family of 12. Any idea where I can find a motel unit large enough?"

"Could you tell me if the Rogers Pass is open yet?" "Charlie brought his clubs but we don't know where to play golf near here."

"I've never been on a horse. Do you suppose there's a real western riding spot around?"

These may be fictitious questions but they're somewhat typical of the hundreds of inquiries that siphon through the capable hands of Chamber of Commerce manager Fred Heatley and his attractive secretary Mrs. H. P. Kuehn at their Mill Street headquarters.

And the same sort of questions are asked at the Kelowna tourist booth just at the entrance to the Okanagan bridge. There Charles Stringer and Dick Pratt dispense good humor, gobs of information to incoming and out going travellers and the odd dollop of famous Valley apple juice.

But the Mill Street spot is the busiest.

MAYBE IT'S NOT SO BAD AFTER ALL

This little girl views the vast space of Lake Okanagan with some trepidation... but we can report she eventually tried the sparkling waters and found them satisfactory. She is a member of one of the many tourist families who visit Kelowna annually. Her family hover around in a power boat just to keep an eye on things.

Rogers Pass Tourists Pour Into Valley

Rogers Pass highway has been officially opened just a few days ago but already tourists are descending on the Okanagan in numbers which are expected to set a record this year.

Something like 8,000 cars, carrying an estimated 20,000 people arrived in the area between here and Revelstoke on Tuesday alone.

This of course, was partly due to the attraction of the ceremonies in which Premier W. A. C. Bennett opened the highway. But observers in the tourist world feel the sign that such interest has been shown indicates a mighty potential yet to come.

On Tuesday morning a Daily Courier check found that all the hotels and motels called were booked solid every night. Restaurants and other business did a sizzling trade.

All in all, Mr. Kelowna Businessman feels that whatever else may result from the opening of the great highway, it can bring nothing but good business to this area and a general upsurge in the economy.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, Y for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Britain's Entry Into ECM
Seen "Best For C'wealth"

LONDON (AP)—The Earl of Home said Wednesday the inter-ests of Commonwealth coun-tries can best be served if Brit-ain joins the European Common Market.

In opening an important par-liamentary debate on the Com-mon Market, the foreign secre-tary told the House of Lords:

"Commonwealth countries themselves have got to do some-very hard thinking in terms of hard realities. Their own expan-sion is directly concerned with the expansion of Britain."

Lord Home said the Ottawa agreement setting out the im-perial preference system was the answer to trade conditions in the depression years of the '30s.

But conditions are different now, he said.

"It would be a mistake to elevate the Ottawa agreement at this stage into the tablet of the law."

"The organization and struc-ture of world trade has changed and the modern Commonwealth is essentially an extrovert or-ganization. Each Common-wealth country, including Brit-ain, has its own interest in dif-

U.S. Senate
Backs Plan
For A-Power

WASHINGTON (CP) — The U.S. Senate approved an amended proposal Wednesday to give the State of Washington generation of electric power from the wastes of an atomic plant.

Defeated before the amend-ment by the House of Repre-sentatives, the proposal would allow the Washington Public Power Supply System—a group of 16 public utility districts—to build a plant using waste steam from the Hanford atomic plant in south-central Washington.

It is understood to comple-ment new sources of hydro power expected from the Co-lumbia River project under a treaty still to be ratified by Canada.

SEIZE PAMPHLETS
MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mex-ican police seized more than 150 pounds of Communist propa-ganda material today from 86 Latin American students re-turning from a visit to Cuba.

Anti-Automation
Strike Starts

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Members of the AFL-CIO Aluminum Work-ers International Union, de-manding greater protection from automation, went on strike Wednesday at the two largest U.S. producers of aluminum.

Picket lines were thrown around plants of the Aluminum Company of America and the Reynolds Metals Company at 12:30 a.m. after negotiators failed to agree on a new con-tract.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By JAY BECKER
(Top Record-Holder in Masters' Individual Championship Play.)

QUIZ
Partner bids One Heart, next player passes, both sides vul-nerable. What would you now bid with each of the following five hands?

- 1. ♠KQ943 ♥J872 ♦73 ♣J5
- 2. ♠KQ82 ♥8 ♦A2873 ♣K94
- 3. ♠KQ8 ♥AQ4 ♦K95 ♣KQ82
- 4. ♠87542 ♥9 ♦AQ83 ♣J96
- 5. ♠K943 ♥53 ♦J4 ♣KJ883

1. Two hearts. It is better to raise hearts immediately than respond one spade. The hand fits the requirements of a raise from one to two of partner's suit. The direct raise shows satisfactory trump support and 6 to 9 points. Some of these points may be in the form of distributional values.

A spade response might create a future bidding problem. Thus, if partner's rebid over a spade were two hearts, there would be a question whether to bid again. To pass would amount to concealment of the heart support, while to raise hearts would amount to bidding twice on a hand worth only one bid. Such problems can be avoided by raising partner's suit directly.

2. Two diamonds. This is part of a plan to represent both the distribution and high card values. The two diamond bid shows 10 or more points. The intention is to bid two spades over the probable rebid of two hearts. The fact that we bid over two hearts shows values beyond a minimum two diamond response. At the same time, it announces the diamonds are longer than the spades be-cause, if the two suits had been equal in length, we would have mentioned spades first.

Whatever partner does next, we contract for game. The final contract depends on partner's reaction to two spades.

3. Three clubs. It is very probable this hand will produce a slam. Our 19 points facing an opening bid put us in the slam zone. The usual way of signalling slam possibilities is to jump-shift in a new suit. True, the clubs are not robust, but this is a minor considera-tion alongside the value of alert-ing partner that we are slam-minded.

The hand is too good for a direct jump to three notrump. This would represent the dis-tribution accurately, but would understate the high-card values by 2 or 3 points.

4. One spade. It is far better to respond a spade than a no-trump. The spade bid promises no more than a notrump re-sponse, though it may, of course, be based on a better hand. The absence of strength in the suit itself is no bar to its being named when it is five cards long.

5. One spade. This is slightly preferable to a response of one notrump, the purpose being to seek a major suit fit. A two club response would also be wrong because it would indicate at least 10 points.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
THIS SHOULD be a pleasant day. Most persons will be in highly congenial mood, and planetary influences encourage many activities—especially do-mestic interests, sports and travel. Look for some good news in the P.M.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your chart promises a good year ahead. According to the stars, both your personal life and your business interests should prosper, and there is also indication of some unusual recognition for past services during September; also in late December. The latter period, incidentally, should mark the beginning of a sharp upturn.

In your financial affairs which, if capitalized upon, could put you in fine position for many months to come. Be astute in money matters during August and October, however. Don't spend what you haven't got.

In personal affairs—except for a brief period in October—your domestic, social and senti-mental interests should be un-usually pleasant. Only the Lon-ge's tendency to try and dominate others could spoil these pleasing prospects. Allow others freedom of thought. Op-portunities for travel are indi-cated in late September, in January, May and June.

A child born on this day will be endowed with the qualities needed to be an excellent teach-er, executive or jurist.

Gov't Faces Two Fronts In Battle For ECM Entry

LONDON (AP)—The government battles on two fronts—on the Continent to get into Europe's Common Market and at home to defend its efforts to do so.

Top negotiator Edward Heath was at a crucial stage of the bargaining in Brussels, insisting on guarantees for Commonwealth exports which the Six seemed reluctant to give.

In Parliament, peers and commoners argued the question: Should Britain really enter Europe?

The government brought out its biggest guns this week for the simultaneous debates—Foreign Secretary Lord Home presented its case in the House of Lords; Deputy Prime Minister Richard Butler in the House of Commons.

Halfway through the debate the government received unexpected support when a group of pro-Market Labor members warned of possible dangers to the West if the current negotiations failed.

"It is not an exaggeration to say that failure now would herald five years of all-round re-orientation," they said in a statement. "We would blame the Six, some of the Six would blame us, and some of them might blame each other."

"If you isolate Britain from the centre of markets or the centre of power, she will become an offshore island," Lord Home said, "and her economy will either be static or weakened."

It had been said that if Britain went into the market nothing would be done for the time being. If she did not go in nothing would ever be the same, either.

"I do not believe the Commonwealth is a sufficient answer to Britain's needs in the next 50 years; nor are we a sufficient answer to the Commonwealth's needs in the next 50 years if we stand alone."

In the Commons, Butler meanwhile was trying to allay the fears of those who thought closer association with the Continent was a threat to the realm.

"There is no ground to fear that the position of the sovereign will be threatened by political union," he said, "nor that the powers of Parliament would be circumvented."

Referring to the present crucial stage of the Brussels negotiations, he said: "The negotiations must protect the vital interests of the Commonwealth as we have no intention of deserting them."

Zorin Insists On Gradual Cuts Of Armaments

GENEVA (AP)—Valerian Zorin demanded today modification of the Western position for a gradual reduction, rather than immediate destruction, of nuclear weapons delivery systems in world disarmament.

The Soviet deputy foreign minister told the 17-nation disarmament conference "There simply will be no progress" on this aspect of the negotiations while the United States, Britain and Canada stand put.

Zorin insisted on adoption of the Kremlin's proposal that all means for the delivery of nuclear weapons be destroyed in the first phase of disarmament.

Under the American plan, he said, 70 per cent of the rockets, submarines and planes capable of carrying atomic warheads would still be left at the end of the first stage "and could become an instrument of aggressive military circles."

UK Moves To Halt Meet Of International Facists

LONDON (Reuters)—The British government, already under pressure to take tough action against British neo-Fascists, today moved to block an international conference here aimed at co-ordinating neo-fascism "throughout the world."

Immigration officials were ordered to refuse admission to known delegates to a secret conference announced by Colin Jordan, head of Britain's National Socialist Movement. Jordan, a suspended school teacher, said the group has applied to hold a public meeting Aug. 19 in London's Trafalgar Square, not two weeks ago when the National Socialists staged a rally there.

Jordan said the secret conference will "plan a co-ordination of the National Socialist struggle for race and nation throughout the world."

Meanwhile, 36 persons were fined Wednesday for their part in fighting in East London Tuesday night when pre-war Fascist leader Sir Oswald Mosley tried to hold a meeting of his extreme right-wing British Union Movement.

He accused his attractive, 41-year-old wife of adultery, desertion and cruelty. Ryan married her in Baptist rites in Maryland 12 years ago under the assumed occupation of free lance writer. Shortly thereafter he left the church and became a real estate salesman.

Her suit last March started a country-wide search that lasted two days. Ryan revealed his whereabouts in San Francisco to deny her charges.

She claimed he was the father of her fourth daughter who on a brief visit to their Glen Head, N.Y., home in 1956, but a San Francisco Superior Court rejected her assertion in a June hearing.

She said in her suit against the church that Ryan was abducted, given liquor and shifted around to various monasteries in different states. This was denied by both Ryan and church officials.

Ryan said in the divorce suit that he left his wife in 1955 because his wife "inflicted a course of extreme cruelty which necessitated his departure from the family dwelling place."

Ryan claims in the suit that Mrs. Ryan's fourth daughter was a result of adultery with an unnamed and unknown man.

MAN JAILED
LANGLEY (CP)—Wesley Franklin Bunt, 30, of Langley, has been sentenced to 12 years on a morals charge involving a girl under 16. He pleaded not guilty. He was also sentenced to two years concurrent on a charge of contributing to juvenile delinquency.

Meanwhile, it was announced in Parliament that Home Secretary Henry Brooke will make a statement today on the outbreak of political violence in Britain in the last few weeks. Tom Tremonger, a Conservative member, was given leave by the House to introduce a private member's bill aimed to amend the 1936 act governing public order so that it would include "inciting hatred of any racial group."

As the law stands, the police have the power to stop public meetings when disorder occurs, but not to prevent assembly for a meeting.

In Dudley, an industrial Midlands town, demonstrations against the Negro West Indian population continued for the third straight night Wednesday night.

Police dogs were used twice to break up crowds of more than 100 white persons threatening to march on the West Indian sections. Eleven men were arrested.

Unwanted Publicity After Thalidomide Case Unveiled

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Robert and Sherri Finkbine say they didn't want the publicity, but when it came they didn't hide.

"We've associated with a lot of people in the news business," says Finkbine, a 31-year-old school teacher. "We understand its problems better probably than most people."

It was this relationship with the news business that pulled them into a swirl of publicity over Sherri's desire for an abortion to avoid the birth of a child which might be malformed.

When their doctor confirmed that Sherri had taken thalidomide, a drug blamed for deforming thousands of babies, they told a friend in the news business of their plight. They asked anonymity, and got it.

"I thought I was being very noble," Sherri said today. "I thought my story might save other expectant mothers the same experience. I didn't know all this was going to happen."

U.S. Soldier Sinks Asylum Say Czechs

FRANKFURT (AP)—The Czechoslovak news agency, CTK, said here a member of a U.S. army rocket unit in West Germany has sought political asylum in Communist Czechoslovakia.

The agency said the soldier, identified as R. S. Harrel, asked for asylum on the grounds of racial discrimination in the West.

In Prague, Communist sources were reported to have told Western newspaper men Harrel was a Negro officer, but CTK did not give his rank.

Harrel was accompanied by a German woman identified by CTK as Margita Schlotter, said to have been a U.S. Army employee in Germany.

The U.S. embassy in Prague, reached by phone, said it had heard Harrel walked across the Czech frontier near Austria with the German woman.

"We have no confirmation, however, that he has asked for political asylum," an embassy source said.

U.S. Army headquarters in Heidelberg had no immediate comment on the report.

SENTECE SPECULATORS

MOSCOW (AP)—The newspaper Soviet Lithuania said today two men have been sentenced at the city of Kaunas to be shot for currency speculation. The two were reported to have dealt in $300,000 worth of dollars between 1951 and 1961. The newspaper identified the men as Moiseyus Tsukermanas and Antanas Shakalis. The first name is Jewish. Three other persons were sentenced to prison terms up to 15 years.

GONE FISHING

JIM TREADGOLD

Fishing in general has been much slower this past week due to the extreme heat, but most lakes do come on with short periods of activity, mostly in the late evening.

Okanagan Lake, which has been good all year, by standards over the past 10 years, is producing considerable numbers of trout and kokanee. Rock fishing is coming into its best part of the season, August has always been the best month for this, and reports are coming in of fair catches of trout taken by fly and by spinning, from the deep water rocky shore areas, of which the lake has many.

Finty Tent Camp reports that kokanee fishing has fallen off in that area, but that a fair amount of Kamloops trout, up to two-and-a-half pounds, are being taken on the Silver Flatfish and number two Gibbs Stewart spoons, trolled close to the surface near the shore in the deep water areas.

Kokanee appear to be in schools more than they were and fishing for them in the Poplar Point area has been good.

The evolution of kokanee fishing in Okanagan Lake is a story in itself. I can remember back around 1928-30 when I first started fishing the lake and we used to catch a few kokanee, but in those days we used to call them kikanines. At that time there were very large runs up the creeks in September, so no doubt there were lots in the lake and the size was about the same as today. I no doubt will get arguments on this.

The only person I remember bringing in large catches of them at that time was DOUG KERR's father who used to fish from the end of Viny Avenue and did most of his trolling just south of the west side of the bridge. This is roughly the same area we get good kokanee fishing today though perhaps a little south.

He used the Willow Troll and worms. However, by and large there was not the quantity taken that there is today and the reason for this I believe is the advent of lures that kokanee just go for. The Red and White Duck Nite spoon and the Skinny Minny in flame color, trolled behind a flasher have taken countless thousands of these fish in the last few years.

As there is no limit on them, and no need for one, many anglers have taken up to, and over, a thousand in one season. They are excellent eating fish and a real treat when smoked. Especially when smoked by ex-game officer WALLY MAXSON, his recipe is tops. I believe he uses apple wood in curing and this may be his secret.

The biologists may disagree with me on just why these fish are taking lures more readily than they used to, saying that it is probably a change in their feeding habits as this fish is primarily a gill feeder being a landlocked sockeye salmon who is not supposed to take food by mouth.

However I will stick to my theory and claim that it is the new lures and knowing just how to fish for this species. All in all this little fish is responsible for a lot of healthful recreation and a good many meals.

Beaver Lake reports fishing as still a little slow, but that some good catches are being made on both the fly and troll. Best flies lately are the Grizzly King, Black-O-Lindsay and Green Bodied Carey. Best color flatfish have been the Silver or Gold plated, the Green Frog, yellow with red dot and fluorescent red, all in F4 or F5 size. The small gannet and worms are taking trout up to three pounds using 100 feet of line in the middle of the lake where it is deep.

Successful fishermen at Beaver this week... MR. LAYDEN of Rocky Mountain House, Alta., FRANK and HELEN MANOWSKI of Washington, ERWIN KOTH and family of Seattle, and H. T. SCHNELBY and family of Ellensburg, Wash.

Postill Lake reports fishing good on the whole chain this week. MR. COLLINS and family of Vancouver, took the limit from several of the lakes with many of the fish over two pounds. Most were taken on the Carey Special and the Royal Coachman fly fished very deep. MR. and MRS. BICKELL of Seattle took home their limits of trout caught in Postill and South Lakes. They had best luck with the Red Flatfish and spinner with worms.

Evenings are good for trout which are after the hatching Sedge flies both under water and on the surface. Morning and evening temperatures are around 50 degrees at that altitude which is approximately 4,200 feet, making it easy to take compared to the heat of the Valley.

Reports from Bear Lake show that fish are rising almost continuously during the day but are hard to take. This makes fishing here really interesting and a test of skill to pick the lure they will take. Fish that are being taken are excellent specimens of bright, fat trout, some of which have weighed in at three pounds.

Pennask Lake continues good, with limit catches being the order of the day. The road in is fair and even new model cars are making it in numbers. However it is a long bush road and quite rough in spots.

DR. C. B. NEWBY, son David and HOWARD HORNBACK and son Robert went in to Bouleau Lake on Tuesday and brought out limit catches, taken on spinner and worm and Grey Sedge fly both cast and trolled. "GOOD FISHING."

Parker, Getty Move Esks To Win Over Roughies

OTTAWA (CP) — Edmonton Stewart free around the end of Eskimos made it a clean sweep of their exhibition series against the Eastern Conference football clubs Thursday night by defeating Ottawa Rough Riders 14-10.

Though it was less humiliating to Ottawa than Edmonton's 51-21 drubbing of Hamilton Tiger-Cats and their 20-7 edge over Toronto Argonauts in earlier pre-season games, the Eskimos made it clear they had the superior squad on defence and offence.

The first quarter went scoreless with Jackie Parker at quarterback for Eskimos. Don Getty took over in the second quarter and Eskimos went from their own 43 to a touchdown in 10 plays. Ed Letavits took a 10-yard pass from Getty in the end zone.

Parker was back for the third quarter and moved the Edmonton team from their own 51 to score a second touchdown. A two-yard plunge by Mike La Huk ended the eight-play sequence.

James Joe Coffey converted both touchdowns. A new quarterback Ron Lancaster not the Riders moving in the final quarter with a 37-yard pass-and-run play to end the game. Jim Reynolds who took the ball from them—up to 23 yards—Edmonton's 23. When the two biggest in the classic four-

Jerome Heavy Favorite For BEG Track Finals

TORONTO (CP) — Vancouver's Harry Jerome is recognized as one of the world's fastest sprinters. He shares the world mark for the 100 metres; his times in the 100 and 200-yard sprints are close to the best anywhere. But Jerome still has to prove he can win the big races.

Summerland Club Will Host Races

Summerland Yacht Club will host the first annual Western Jollyboat Championships, Saturday, Aug. 4.

There will be three races, the first starting at 11 a.m. Trophies at stake are the 'Jolly Jug', awarded by the Fairly Marine Limited of England and the 'Western Trophy', presented by the Canadian Jollyboat Association.

The Jollyboat is a sleek 18 foot sailboat designed to be a family racer and uses a crew of two or more persons. It is ideally suited to the Okanagan, as it performs well under a wide variety of wind and wave conditions.

It has a modern planing hull and is thus capable of high sailing speeds. It has been clocked at 21 miles per hour by radar.

Spectators are welcome to attend these races.

Barring some unforeseen event, Jerome will get his chance at the British Empire Games at Perth, Australia, Nov. 22-Dec. 1. No one would be rash enough to predict that Jerome won't be on the Canadian track and field team that will go to the games.

The 22-year-old University of Oregon student will be going through the formalities of making that team this weekend at the B. E. Games track and field finals here. Jerome is one of the few of the 288 athletes attending the trials who, on performance, is virtually assured of a berth on the team bound for Australia.

In this respect, Jerome finds himself in the same position as he was two years ago at the 1960 Olympic trials. In 1960 he easily made the Canadian team and was given a sendoff to Rome as one of Canada's best bets for a gold medal.

Last month at the Western Canada track championships at Vancouver, Jerome turned in the fastest times for the 100 and 200-yard races ever recorded in Canada. His 100 was 9.3 seconds; the 200 was 20.9.

Jerome's 100 is the fastest by anyone in the British Empire. In the 220, only Dave Segal of Great Britain has a better Commonwealth mark—20.6.

If Jerome doesn't win both races this weekend, whoever beats him will pull one of the biggest upsets of this track season. In two years Jerome has lost only four times in the 100. He has never been beaten in a 220-yard sprint.

NL-AL ROUNDUP

Howard Helps Dodgers Maintain League Lead

As Frank Howard goes, so go Los Angeles Dodgers.

The big outfielder slammed down the third base line and it runs in the big weekend series with San Francisco Giants. The Dodgers won all three games. He was hitless in Wednesday's opener against Pittsburgh Pirates. The National League leaders lost.

Thursday night he went back to work, providing a two-run single in the seventh to give the Dodgers a 5-3 win over the Reds.

The triumph maintained their four-game lead over the second-place Giants, who edged Chicago Cubs 4-3 to end a four-game losing streak.

Meanwhile, Cincinnati Reds got the cooling off treatment from St. Louis Cardinals as Ernie Broglio pitched a four-hitter and handed the defending champions their second defeat in the last 13 games. 5-1. Dick Furrell's five-hit shutout gave the Cardinals a 3-0 triumph over Milwaukee Braves and Philadelphia Phillies again outslugged New York Mets 9-4 for Art Mahaffey's 15th victory.

In more routine American League activity, Los Angeles Angels fought off Cleveland Indians 5-4 and closed up a half-game on the idle, leading Yankees. The third-place Minnesota Twins rallied for a 6-3 victory over Baltimore Orioles. Boston Red Sox beat Chicago White Sox 4-1 for a sweep of a two-game

SWIM CLUB GOES FOR NEW MARK

Butterfly Champion To Swim in Regatta

Regatta officials announced yesterday that Canada's 18-year-old 'Water Queen' will be one of the competitors at the 56th Kelowna International Regatta here next week.

Mary Stewart, the best swimmer of international status in the country, will be swimming in her own age and open classifications.

Miss Stewart holds numerous records, both world and U.S. titles, and without a doubt is recognized as the top Olympic hopeful Canada has. Last weekend Miss Stewart smashed the world marks for the 110 yard and 100 metre butterfly event at Vancouver's Empire pool.

At the same time it was disclosed that this year's water show will also feature a four mile swim at the request of the Ritzville, Wash., men's swimming club.

The swim, in open water, will be staged to allow the Ritzville team to go after IEA, AAU and B.C. provincial records.

This four mile distance swim will be the only one on the continent other than the California and Men's U.S. Nationals in Ohio. Any records set will be recognized by the AAU, IEA and British Columbia.

Diving committee chairman, George Athans, reports former European and U.S. champion George Gerlach will lead the pro diving contingent which will include acrobatic diver Eddie Cole and Kelowna's own Irene MacDonald.

Irene held the Canadian springboard championship from 1954 to 1961 and has also held the U.S. springboard and Canadian tower championship before turning pro this year.

She represented Canada twice in Olympic competition and also competed twice in the British Empire Games.

ROBERVAL (CP)—Herman Willemse, known to others in his trade as the Flying Dutchman, will dive into broad Lac St. Jean Saturday trying for his second $3,000 prize in the race.

Willemse's chief rivals are expected to be Cliff Lumsden of Toronto, veteran marathon swimmer; Rejean Lacoursiere of Montreal, who won in 1960 and Alfredo Cumarero, the Argentine champion.

Willemse, 28, from Utrecht, last month won the Atlantic City marathon swim for the third year and is the overwhelming favorite here.

Jr. Regatta To Go On Saturday

Every year the Sunday before the Kelowna International Regatta, the summer swim clubs of the Okanagan get together for a swim meet.

Teams from Kamloops, Pen-ticton, Savona and any other summer club teams are invited to compete for the S. M. Simpson team aggregate trophy.

This year there will be a boys' team trophy donated by the Willow Inn Hotel and a girls' team trophy donated by the Royal Anne Hotel. Both of these trophies are for annual competition.

There will be trophies for individual age groups winners put up by the Kelowna Parks and Recreation Commission.

The heats for the swimming events begin at 10:00 a.m. with the diving events at 12 noon. The finals start at 2:00 p.m. The members of the Kelowna Swim Team are selling booster tickets at 25 cents each. This is to help raise finances for their trip to Vancouver to compete in the B.C. Summer Clubs Championship.

Don't forget the boat races on the open water. They begin at 2 p.m.

East Trail All-Stars Win Again

VANCOUVER (CP) — East Trail All-Stars trounced previously undefeated Delta Kennedy All-Stars 11-4 in the semifinals of the B.C. Little League finals Thursday night.

East Trail came up with three runs in the first inning and eight in the second for the win.

The East Trail team now meet the winner of tonight's game between Victoria Nationals and Vancouver Dunbar Saturday in the finals.

Chris Buccini went all the way for East Trail, striking out seven.

Bob Sharp who started for Kennedy was relieved in the second by Norm Craig.
